

european emesis council

GI Research Grant

The European Emesis Council (EEC) is a science driven, non-charitable, not-for-profit group dedicated to promoting best practice in the management of canine and feline emesis and in the wider field of gastroenterology.

The EEC is offering a research grant up to €20,000 for New Clinical Investigators conducting original research into naturally occurring gastro-intestinal disease in dogs or cats.

Applications will be accepted from qualified veterinary surgeons working within Europe who have obtained their degree within the last seven years.

For further details of the grant and an application form visit www.emesiscouncil.com/eec-grant.

Closing date for applications: 1 July 2012.

The EEC is supported by Pfizer Animal Health

